Yep, but after more thought, library is probably more likely.

Try Helen or Roy. If not, check with the library.

Subject: access to on line publications

Good morning, I am working on the background paper for Dimock and found a couple papers I would like to read. Unfortunately, I am not able to find them published for free on line. I am wondering if we have some kind of established access to <http://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/> ?

Do you have any idea or who I could ask?

Rich
